TERIOS WELLNESS SPA · DIGITAL PRACTICE PLATFORM

Prepared for Terios Wellness Spa · Implementation and Engagement Proposal · 9 August 2026

1. Purpose of This Document

This proposal sets out, in full, what XCreativs Technologies will design, build, and deliver for Terios Wellness Spa Digital Practice Platform. It translates everything discussed in our discovery session into a clear and complete plan: the public website that will represent the practice, the private management system that will run it, and the secure portal through which clients will engage with it.

The document is written for your review. Its purpose is to confirm that every requirement you expressed has been captured accurately and completely before we proceed to commercial terms. Nothing in this document is technical for the sake of being technical. Where a technical decision matters to you, it is explained in plain language.

IN SHORT

One platform, three connected layers: a professional public website that markets the practice, a private dashboard from which you run the entire business, and a secure personal portal for every client. Built once, owned by you, and designed to grow with the practice as it evolves toward the wellness spa vision.

2. Our Understanding of Your Practice

Terios Wellness Spa is a solo nursing and wellness coaching practice. You run everything yourself: consultations, follow-up, scheduling, client communication, and content. Your clients are not limited to one country, and your sessions are delivered by video. The practice is young, but the ambition is not small. Over time, Terios Wellness Spa is intended to evolve into a distinctive wellness and relaxation brand.

This shapes every decision in this proposal. You do not need a heavy enterprise system with features you will never touch. You need something light, secure, and extremely capable: a platform that removes administrative weight from your day, presents the practice with complete professionalism, and protects client information to the standard expected of a health practice.

- What exists today: A domain purchased through Google, testimonials already collected from past clients, written material about the practice, and a working knowledge of what a proper practice platform feels like from your time using Practice Better.
- What has not worked: Previous website attempts through general purpose builders stalled. The domain would not transfer, the tools fought back, and none of them could deliver the security or client management the practice actually needs.
- What you asked for: One professional home for the practice that does everything: markets it, books it, runs it, and protects it. No juggling of separate subscriptions and disconnected tools.

3. Platform Architecture at a Glance

The platform is one system presented through three faces, each serving a different person. All three share one secure foundation, one database, and one brand.

Layer	Who Uses It	What It Does
Public Website	Visitors and prospects	Presents the practice, publishes wellness content, displays services and prices, and converts visitors into booked, paying clients
Practice Dashboard	You	Your command centre: calendar, client records, session notes, services and pricing, forms, payments, website content, and business reporting
Client Portal	Your clients	Each client's private, secure space: booking, video sessions, forms, feedback, documents, and payment history

Because the three layers share one foundation, everything stays in sync automatically. A price you change in your dashboard updates on the website instantly. A session a client books in their portal appears on your calendar immediately. A note you share after a session is waiting in the client's portal before they have closed the video call.

4. The Public Website

The website is the front door of the practice. It is designed to do two jobs at once: inform, so that no visitor ever has to ask what you do, and convert, so that interest turns into booked sessions without friction.

- Home and brand story: A polished, credible first impression that communicates who you are, what you offer, and who you help. Designed around the Terios Wellness Spa identity, with room to evolve as the brand grows toward the spa concept.
- About and approach: Your professional background, philosophy, and way of working, presented in your voice. Built from the material you have already written, refined together during the design phase.
- Services with visible pricing: Every service presented with a clear description and its price. You control this list entirely from your dashboard: add services, retire them, adjust prices, and reorder offerings at any time, with changes reflected on the site immediately.
- Work With Me: The dedicated conversion page. Visitors see what is on offer, choose a service, pick an available time on your calendar, and book, all in one flow.
- Online booking: Real-time availability drawn from your calendar. Visitors select a slot, complete any required intake form, pay, and receive automatic confirmation. Every booking lands on your dashboard the moment it is made.

- International payments: Clients pay online at the point of booking, from any country, in their own currency, by card or mobile money where applicable. Payment is confirmed instantly and recorded against the client's account.
- Testimonials and reviews: Your existing testimonials transferred in and presented professionally. Clients who have worked with you can submit their own reviews, which you approve from your dashboard before they appear publicly.
- Wellness blog: A full publishing system for articles, wellness information, and practice news. You write, edit, and publish entirely from your dashboard. Content is open to all visitors, positioning the site as a resource and not merely a brochure.
- FAQ: A structured, searchable answer bank for the questions you receive most often, reducing repetitive back-and-forth before a client ever books.
- Contact and enquiries: A simple, secure enquiry form for anyone not yet ready to book, delivered straight to your dashboard and your email.

5. The Practice Dashboard

This is where you run Terios Wellness Spa. It is deliberately designed for one practitioner: everything visible, nothing buried, no features that exist only to justify an enterprise licence. One login, one screen, full command of the practice.

- Calendar and scheduling: A live calendar of every booked, upcoming, and completed session. You define your availability, working hours, session lengths, and buffer times, and the booking system enforces them so you are never double-booked or booked when you should be resting.
- Automated reminders: The platform reminds clients of upcoming sessions by email automatically, reducing no-shows without you sending a single message. Clients can reschedule within the rules you set.
- Client records: A private, secure file for every client: contact details, session history, notes, forms completed, documents shared, payments made, and feedback sent. The complete relationship in one place.
- Session notes and feedback: After each session, write your notes and choose what to share. Private notes stay with you. Shared feedback and resources appear in the client's portal, so every client leaves every session with something in hand.
- Video consultations: Sessions run on secure, encrypted video built into the platform itself. You start the session from your dashboard; the client joins from their portal. No third-party meeting links, no separate video subscription, and the session record attaches to the client's file.
- Forms and digital signatures: Create intake forms, consent forms, and questionnaires. Send them to clients or attach them to bookings, and receive them back completed and digitally signed. Signed documents are stored securely in the client's record.
- Services and pricing control: Full authority over what the practice sells and at what price, changed in seconds, reflected everywhere instantly.
- Website content management: Edit the website without touching code: pages, blog posts, FAQs, testimonials, and images, all managed from the same dashboard you already use to run the practice.

- Payments and earnings: See every payment as it arrives, tied to the client and service it belongs to. A clear view of earnings over time, by service and by period.
- Practice reporting: Simple, honest numbers: sessions delivered, bookings ahead, income earned, website visits, and which content draws people in. Enough to steer the business, without drowning you in dashboards.

6. The Client Portal

Every client receives their own private, password-protected space. This is where the professional relationship lives between sessions, and it is a large part of what makes the practice feel established rather than improvised.

- Personal account: Each client registers once and signs in to a space that contains only their own information. No client can ever see another client's data, under any circumstance.
- Booking and rescheduling: Clients book new sessions, view upcoming ones, and reschedule within your rules, without a single back-and-forth message.
- Joining video sessions: One click from the portal takes the client into their secure video session at the appointed time.
- Forms and signatures: Intake and consent forms assigned to the client appear in their portal, are completed and signed online, and are returned to you automatically.
- Session history and feedback: A complete record of every session, together with the notes, feedback, and resources you chose to share after each one.
- Documents: Wellness plans, handouts, and any files you share, stored in the portal and available to the client at any time, from any device.
- Payments: A clear history of what the client has paid, for what, and when, with the ability to pay for new bookings directly.
- Reviews: After working with you, clients can submit a review from their portal. Nothing is published until you approve it.

7. Matching the Standard You Already Know

You have used Practice Better, a platform trusted by tens of thousands of health and wellness practitioners, and you know what good looks like. We are not migrating anything from that platform. We are building your own, and the useful capabilities you experienced there will exist natively in it, under your brand, on your domain, and under your ownership. The table below shows how the standard you know maps onto what we will build.

Capability You Know	How It Lives in Your Platform
Client portal	Built in as Layer Three: private client accounts with booking, sessions, forms, documents, feedback, and payments
Scheduling and reminders	Native calendar with self-booking, availability rules, rescheduling, and automatic email reminders

Capability You Know	How It Lives in Your Platform
Telehealth video	Secure, encrypted video sessions built into the platform, joined from the client portal, no external meeting tools
Intake and consent forms	Custom form builder with digital signatures, attached to bookings or sent individually, stored in client records
Session notes and charting	Structured session notes per client, with a clear split between private notes and shared feedback
Packages and payments	Services and packages with online payment at booking, supporting international clients and multiple currencies
Secure client messaging	Feedback and resource sharing through the portal; a full two-way secure messaging thread can be added as the practice grows
Automations	Booking confirmations, session reminders, and follow-up feedback delivery handled automatically by the platform
Business reporting	Practice dashboard reporting on sessions, income, bookings, and website performance
Branding	The entire platform carries the Terios Wellness Spa identity: your domain, your colours, your voice, no third-party badge

THE DIFFERENCE

On a subscription platform, you rent your practice infrastructure and it disappears the month you stop paying. Here, the platform is yours. It carries only your brand, answers only to you, and its cost does not climb as your client list grows.

8. Security and Data Protection

A wellness practice handles personal and health-adjacent information, and you were clear in our discussion that protecting it is not negotiable. Security in this platform is a design foundation, not an add-on, and it is built to the spirit of the standards that govern health platforms internationally.

- Strict data isolation: Client data is separated at the deepest level of the system. Each client's records, notes, documents, and history are accessible only to that client and to you. There is no path, accidental or otherwise, from one client's account to another's information.
- Encryption everywhere: All traffic between clients, the website, and the platform is encrypted with managed SSL certificates. Sensitive stored data, including credentials and signed documents, is encrypted at rest.
- Secure video: Video consultations run over encrypted connections, accessible only to you and the booked client, with no public or guessable meeting links.

- Safe payments: Card and payment details are handled by a certified international payment processor and never touch or sit on your platform, which is the same approach used by the world's most trusted online businesses.
- Access control: Strong authentication for you and for every client, with protection against automated attacks, session hijacking, and brute-force attempts.
- Daily backups: The entire platform, including all client records and content, is backed up daily to secure off-site storage, so no single failure can cost the practice its data.
- Continuous hardening: Security is maintained, not merely installed. Under ongoing support, the platform receives regular security updates, monitoring, and hardening for as long as we maintain it.

9. Delivery Approach

- Right-sized engineering: The platform is built with modern, proven technology, engineered deliberately for a solo practice: fast, light, and dependable, with no unnecessary complexity to pay for or maintain.
- Design before code: We begin with the look, feel, and flow of the platform, agreed with you before development starts, so there are no surprises at delivery.
- You see progress, not promises: You will see the working platform as it takes shape, not screenshots and descriptions. Feedback is folded in as we build, not after.
- Your content, professionally placed: The material you have written, your testimonials, and your service descriptions are transferred, refined, and professionally presented as part of the build. You will not be handed an empty shell to fill.
- Training and handover: Before launch, you are walked through every part of your dashboard until you are fully comfortable running the practice on it. The platform is only finished when you can drive it confidently on your own.

10. Implementation Phases

The build is organised into five phases. The public website goes live first so the practice has a professional presence early, while the deeper practice systems are completed behind it.

Phase	What Happens
1. Foundation	Scope confirmation, brand and design direction, domain and infrastructure setup
2. Public Website	Design, build, and content placement for the full public site, reviewed with you and launched
3. Practice Core	Practice dashboard, calendar and booking engine, client records, services and pricing, payments
4. Client Experience	Client portal, secure video sessions, forms and signatures, feedback delivery, reviews

Phase	What Happens
5. Launch	Security hardening, full testing, your training, go-live, and supported settling-in period

A precise week-by-week schedule is agreed at scope sign-off. For a platform of this size, delivery is measured in weeks, not months, and you will have visible progress from the first phase onward.

11. Maintenance and Ongoing Support

Launch is the beginning of the platform's life, not the end of our responsibility. Ongoing maintenance and support is offered as an optional monthly arrangement, which you may opt into or step away from as it suits the practice. It covers the technical foundations that keep a professional platform trustworthy.

- Uptime monitoring: Around-the-clock watch over the platform so that hosting issues are caught and resolved before your visitors and clients ever notice them.
- Daily backups: Continuous protection of all practice data, safely stored off-site and restorable at any time.
- Security updates and hardening: Ongoing patching, vulnerability response, and strengthening as the security landscape changes.
- Certificate and domain technical management: SSL certificates and the technical health of your web presence, managed for you.
- Technical fixes: If anything breaks, it is our job to repair it, covered within the arrangement rather than billed as a surprise.
- What stays in your hands: Day-to-day content, services, prices, blog posts, and client management need no technical help at all. The dashboard was built precisely so the practice never depends on a developer for its daily life.

12. Assumptions and Boundaries

- No migration from Practice Better: This engagement builds your platform fresh. We are not transferring data, accounts, or configurations from Practice Better or any other system. Capabilities you valued there are being built natively into your own platform instead.
- Your domain: The domain you purchased remains yours and will be connected to the new platform. Its annual renewal remains a direct cost between you and your registrar, as it is today.
- Third-party services: Payment processing and hosting are provided by established international providers. Their standard transaction and service charges apply directly and are not fees of ours.
- Content: You provide the raw material about the practice: text, photographs, testimonials, and service details. We refine, edit, and place it professionally as part of the build.
- One practitioner: The platform is designed and sized for a single practitioner. It is designed so that growth, including additional practitioners or the future spa concept, is an extension rather than a rebuild.

- Scope changes: Anything requested beyond what this document describes is welcome, and is agreed and priced separately before work on it begins, so the engagement never drifts without your knowledge.

13. How the Engagement Is Priced

Our professional platform engagements follow a simple two-part structure, with no hidden components.

Component	What It Covers
One-time implementation fee	The complete design, build, content placement, testing, training, and launch of everything described in this proposal. Paid once. The platform is yours.
Monthly maintenance and support	Optional. The ongoing protection described in Section 11: uptime, backups, security, certificates, and technical fixes. You may opt in or out.
Third-party costs	Domain renewal and payment processor transaction charges, paid directly to those providers as normal. Not fees of ours.

Specific figures are presented and agreed once you confirm that this proposal captures the full and correct scope of what you want built. That order matters: price should follow a shared understanding of the work, not precede it.

14. Your Review and Next Steps

- Review this proposal: Read it against everything you want the platform to do. Anything missing, unclear, or not quite right, tell us plainly and we will revise it.
- Confirm the scope: Once you are satisfied that this document describes the platform you want, confirm it, and it becomes the agreed scope of the engagement.
- Commercial discussion: We then present pricing against the confirmed scope and agree terms.
- Design kickoff: Work begins with the design phase, and Terios Wellness Spa starts taking its proper digital form.

OUR COMMITMENT

Terios Wellness Spa deserves infrastructure that matches the seriousness of the practice behind it. We build platforms that institutions trust, and we bring the same standard of engineering, security, and care to a practice of one. You will own something built properly, built once, and built for where the practice is going.
